Dear Mr. Gordon

I shall be delighted to come to lunch on the 27th at 1.45 & see you all again.

I am so sorry you have writer's cramp - but I often must confess now prefer a typewriter to manuscribing - if there is such a word - & that it soon ceases to be tiresome - Personally, I think it would be almost as paralyzing to me as an amanuensis - so I can sympathise with you all the more

With kindest regards

Very sincerely yours

Anstey Guthrie
